DESCRIPTION

The Adnet Rectangular Mirror originates from the partnership of the designer Jaques Adnet and a famous French fashion house in 1950's. By applying the fashion house's knowledge and high quality of leather to Jacques Adnet's innovative thinking and design vision, the two parts created a series of remarkable interior designs. Among them were the Adnet Rectangular leather mirror studded with burnished brass rivets on the edges, a characteristic detailing of Adnet's work. With its simplicity of design combined with the warmth of leather and finest detailing, the Adnet Rectangular Mirror in three sizes serves equally well in a hallway, bathroom and dressing room, either horizontal, vertical, mounted to the wall or spontaneously leaned against it. It adds depth, reflect light, expand horizons and add a magical allure.
