

ARTWORK 22

COLLECTION
JAN KATH

DESIGNER

DESCRIPTION

In the Artwork collection, wool is used to “paint” instead of a brush. What appears to the beholder to be random has actually been precisely specified by the designer and can be perfectly reproduced by the experienced weavers in the workshops in Kathmandu. Up to 24 colours may be used in a single carpet. The material mix of the finest Chinese silk, Tibetan highland wool, and nettle fibres gives the carpets exceptional depth and expressive power. Like almost all collections, the artwork collection goes without saying that alterations and adjustments of all kinds can be made depending on the project.
