

ISTHMUS CHANDELIER

COLLECTION
REFRACTORY STUDIO

DESCRIPTION

A narrow sliver of land with bodies of water on either side, an isthmus is a slender formation that tethers one frontier to another. A passage, or connective tissue, that joins two otherwise separated masses is the language of the Isthmus series. The Isthmus pendant arranged in a linear sequence of five pendants. The orientation of each pendant can be rotated as preferred. The rectangular ceiling canopy can be finished to match fixture or ceiling. Number of pendant units and drop heights can be individually customizable upon request.
