POUENAT FERRONNIER

DESCRIPTION

Piero Manara is an Italian interior architect and decorator. After spending 17 years in New York, 3 years ago he decided to move his business to Monaco. "Casamanara" works on commercial and residential projects for an international clientele. His work is founded upon inspiration from great Italian post-war artists such as Gio Ponti and Carlo Scarpa, in a mix of classical influences and geometric constructions. POUENAT's knowledgeable approach consists first of all from the use of diverse pieces from their own collection, then by their common wish to release numerous complementary works.
