DESCRIPTION

Playful, poetic and pared back, Space Copenhagen's design team have reimagined the traditional lantern with the calming and characterful Unbound Floor Lamp. With the teardrop-shaped marble base acting as an anchor, the white linen or natural canvas shade can be effortlessly rotated around it, as though it were a sail, gently billowing. Its dark antique brass 'mast' supports an array of dimmable LED lights within the shade that create a soft, diffuse and evenly distributed light. The largest of the Unbound Floor Lamps, it can be used to create a bold, standalone statement, or it can be paired with the medium and small versions to create a sculptural cluster. Changing the angles of the 'sails' to each other makes a calming, floating and dynamic sculpture, even when switched off. This balance of character and sophistication make the Unbound Floor Lamps destined to grace both the private home and grand projects alike.
